Business Intelligence Solution

Unipart Digital Products

Proven | Trusted | Transformative

Unipart Business Intelligence Solution (UBIS)

The power to know what your business is telling you

Typical enterprise systems don't make it easy to gather timely data. The sheer volume and complexity tends to be splintered across divergent departments and even systems. The answer is a business intelligence (BI) system, but they are not without their challenges.

Traditional systems have their merits, but they also tend to create frustration while demanding a steep learning curve.

Traditional BI systems fail to deliver cross-value chain information to the users who need this data the most. For starters, they need coding skills. Due to the usage license fees, it falls to the company's developers to create the dashboards, but it's not developers who regularly use these dashboards. Their dashboards miss important features that users need. Time is lost in order to communicate with the developers and for them to implement changes.

The lack of an intuitive experience is another hindrance; so is the inability to share with other users and the time it takes to deploy these systems. And we haven't even mentioned the cost and risks involved.

There are free, easy-to-use BI systems out there that enable you to create a basic dashboard. However, they're not overly robust. They're difficult to use for complex needs, such as undertaking in-depth analyses and collecting data from multiple sources.

Unipart Digital Products

Why UBIS?

UBIS is designed to make the experience straightforward

This online solution allows you to visualise data in a meaningful way. You can generate graphs, charts and other widgets to bring your business data to life, resulting in actionable insights to share with colleagues.

Easy to use for complex needs

1 Explore your data easily, securely, at every level of the company

2 Provides standardised and centralised access to your ready-to-use data

3 Secure, so every user can only access the data they have permission to view

4 Intuitive and easy to use, with no coding knowledge required

5 Enables people to explore data at their own level, facilitating problem solving and visual data-driven management

UBIS benefits enable successful outcomes

Increase efficiency

The inability to leverage accurate data keeps your company stagnant and reacting to situations versus being pro-active. The insight gained from UBIS creates efficiencies. You know what resources are required and what needs to be done, eliminating wasted effort and time.

Identify trends

Analysing data enables you to spot trends that can inform your decisions and immediate – and even long-term – plans. By knowing what's around the corner you can mitigate risks now and take advantage of, and also create, opportunities for your business.

Enhance customer satisfaction

With accurate data, you can identify what your company is doing right and where any problems are. You can determine the effects on customers and take action to correct issues. Insight can also show you opportunities for raising customer service levels.

Improve operational performance

Data that transforms into actionable insight allows for smarter decision making. That insight can lead to the development of more efficient processes, which in turn creates meaningful improvements in productivity and agility.

Unipart Digital Products

How UBIS works

UBIS is a cloud solution, stored on our own secure, encrypted servers. There are three main aspects:

1 Connects to a large range of data sources and file types, such as: databases, systems and spreadsheets, and processes them on the fly

2 Aggregates the cleaned data in a centralised data warehouse

3 Gives you intuitive access to the ready-to-use data, where you can explore the data and create dashboards i The first two steps are carried out for you by the experts at Unipart Digital. As a user, you get access to a dedicated web application, where the super users can administrate your data. All users can access that data and create dashboards.

Unipart Digital Products

What can UBIS do for you?

Straightforward to use – no coding skills necessary for end users

Connects to a wide variety of data sources

Provides accurate data that transforms into actionable insight

Easy to create dashboards, charts and graphs with text and images

Allows you to share information with colleagues

Intuitive system

Enables problem solving

Filter data to refine your analysis

Get started today

To learn more, we're happy to answer any questions. We invite you to contact us at ubis@unipart.io to arrange a demo. Alternatively, call:

Jen Hunt, Digital & Innovation Unipart Logistics

📞 07584 556760   ✉ jennifer.hunt@unipart.com

Unipart Digital Products