Truck & Trailer Components wins 'Supplier of the Year' at the IFA awards 2010

Truck & Trailer Components (TTC) have been awarded 'Supplier of the Year' at this year's Independent Motor Trade Factors Association (IFA) Supplier awards.

Presented at the IFA annual conference in Carden Park, near Chester on Saturday 13th November, the award recognises TTC's performance across a broad range of areas including product availability and delivery, sales and marketing support, inventory support and the level of customer service provided by TTC to its customers.

The TTC team have recently developed a number of innovative customer programmes; including expanding its same day delivery service and online business system which, available via the TTC website, provides customers with a whole range of e-commerce tools including on-line ordering, electronic catalogues, cross references, along with the latest TTC product news and promotions.

This is the second consecutive year that TTC have won this award, a fantastic accolade for the TTC business and recognises the company's focus on the Commercial Vehicle market and customers.

TTC General Manager, Darren Miller, said:

"This is a fantastic achievement for the TTC business and recognises the company's continuous investment in logistics and e-commerce trading. This is further supported by our continued focus and development of the TTC product range and brand propositions to help deliver outstanding customer service. The TTC business is built on customer support and the team has worked extremely hard to develop this relationship.

TTC distributes to a network of Independent Factors in the UK and Eire, as well as serving a growing worldwide export market.
